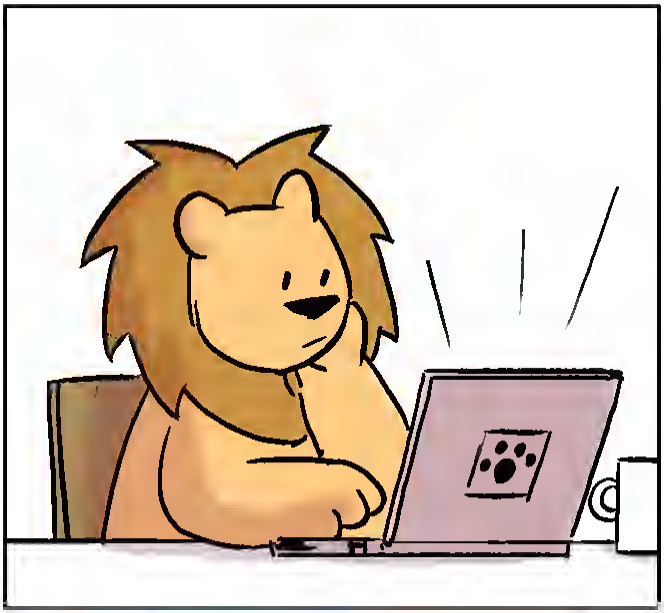
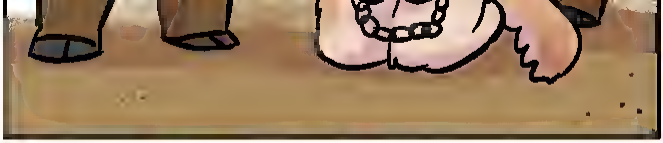
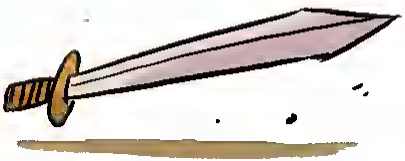
To Be Truly Strong

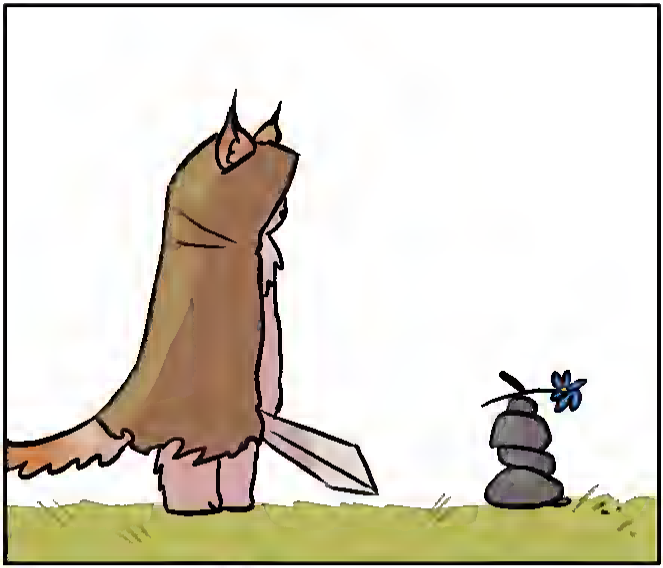


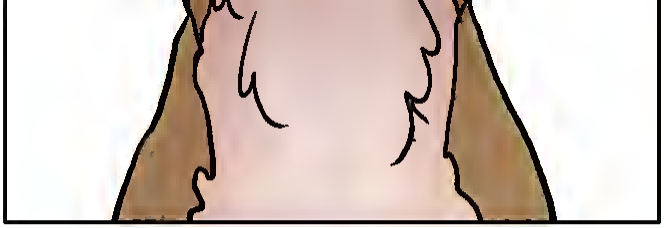
Some people believe love makes us weak.



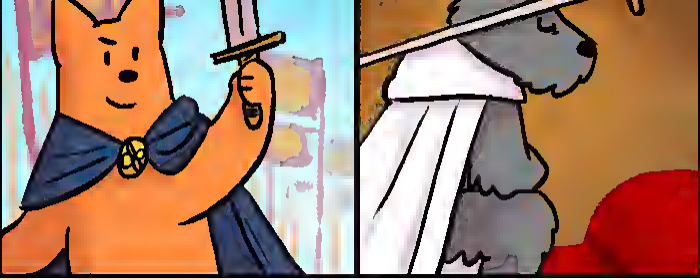
They say we can only be strong without love.







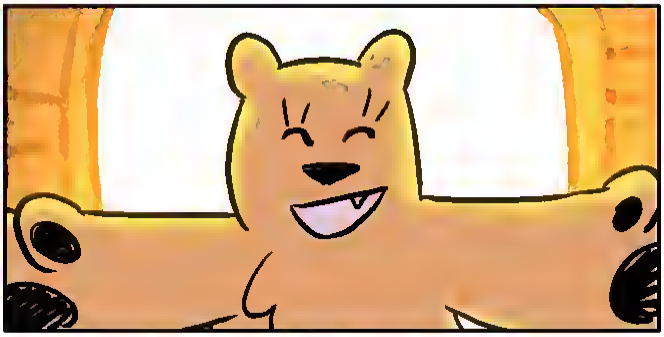
Wthout attachment to anyone,
we will never be threatened or harmed.



Some people fight for honor, duty, money or power.

However, the truth is,
nothing compares to love.

Love makes us weak because we fear
of losing our loved ones.



It is because of this weakness,
we become truly strong.

We become strong because of love.

to see you my love!
